RESOLUTION

Congratulating the people of the 17 African nations that in 2010 are marking the 50th year of their national independence.

Whereas in the year 2010, 17 African nations will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their independence from France, Italy, or Great Britain;

Whereas tens of thousands of Africans died or were imprisoned during the struggle for self-determination and national political independence following over 75 years of often brutal colonial rule;

Whereas the Republic of Cameroon gained its independence on January 1, 1960;

Whereas the Togolese Republic gained its independence on April 27, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Mali gained its independence on June 20, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Senegal gained its independence on June 20, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Madagascar gained its independence on June 26, 1960;

Whereas the Democratic Republic of the Congo gained its independence on June 30, 1960;

Whereas Somalia gained its independence on July 1, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Benin gained its independence on August 1, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Niger gained its independence on August 3, 1960;

Whereas Burkina Faso gained its independence on August 5, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Cote d'Ivoire gained its independence on August 7, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of Chad gained its independence on August 11, 1960;

Whereas the Central African Republic gained its independence on August 13, 1960;

Whereas the Republic of the Congo gained its independence on August 15, 1960;

Whereas the Gabonese Republic gained its independence on August 17, 1960;

Whereas the Federal Republic of Nigeria gained its independence on October 1, 1960; and

Whereas Islamic Republic of Mauritania gained its independence on November 28, 1960: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

2 (1) congratulates the people of the 17 African
3 nations that in 2010 are marking the 50th year of 4 their national independence;

5 (2) salutes the continuing status of these people
6 as citizens of free and sovereign countries;

7 (3) honors the lives of the ten of thousands of 8 patriots, including innocent civilians, who died, were 9 imprisoned, or otherwise dedicated their lives, often
10 at great personal sacrifice, to achieving African po-
11 litical independence;

12 (4) commends the socioeconomic and political
13 progress being made by these nations, while ac-
14 knowledging the associated challenges that many 15 still face; and

16 (5) renews the commitment of the United
17 States to help the people of sub-Saharan Africa to 18 foster democratic rule, advance civic freedom and 19 participation, and promote market-based economic

- 1 growth, and to alleviate the burden of poverty and
- 2 disease that so many in the region continue to face.
